Unwin and Brian Palmer offers chapter-by-chapter discussion questions and interdisciplinary activities. How do readers practice comprehension? Each format was selected to reduce copies needed while still offering materials for student use. The entire novel is pretty much an extensive study of man vs nature. In addition to being a great fit for lit circles and book clubs, the activities are easy to differentiate for a whole group novel study or as a follow-up to a read-aloud. This whole class period will be spent using prior knowledge of survival skills. The little image on the left of Brian with mosquito bites makes me giggle every time I see it.
